The DLA Welcomes Two New Members: EuroABS and GvW Graf von Westphalen

Berlin, 26th of January 2024

Euro ABS and GvW Graf von Westphalen join the Digital Lending Association (DLA) as Associated Members. EuroABS is a renowned British service provider to the European ABS market. GvW Graf von Westphalen is a full-service law firm with distinctive fintech expertise and a well-established international network. With EuroABS and the first-time membership of a law firm, the association is pushing ahead with its strategy to give all players in the ecosystem the opportunity to join in.

The Digital Lending Association (DLA) has accepted EuroABS and GvW Graf von Westphalen as Associate Members. "We are very pleased to welcome two such key players in the areas of securitization and advising fintechs. With their recognized expertise and services, they will contribute significantly to the success of the DLA," says Constantin Fabricius, Managing Director of the DLA, and adds: "We are very much looking forward to the partnership and the professional exchange."

"We are excited at the prospect of participating as an active member of the DLA, inter-acting with the constituent members, and also helping to promote the aims of the Association. The use of automation, enhanced data and analytics to simplify and speed up lending decisions has to be a positive for all parties involved, says Darren Nesbitt, CEO.

"We are delighted to be the first law firm joining this association of renowned players in the market. We are very happy to support the DLA ecosystem with our long-standing legal expertise and promote it with full dedication. In particular in the area of Digital Lending, the legal landscape is subject to constant change. It is therefore essential to monitor and evaluate the changes to identify new opportunities and necessary adaptations of existing business models. We look forward a great deal to supporting the DLA and are confident to create real added value for the DLA", says Philippe Woesch, Associated Partner at GvW Graf von Westphalen.
